

Public-Private Partnerships in Education

June 7-8 2007, Washington D.C.

CONFERENCE:

The Human Development Network Education of the World Bank will host an international seminar on the empirical evidence of "Public-Private Partnership in Education". The main aim of this seminar is to examine the impact of PPPs on educational outcomes around the world, with emphasis in less developed and developing countries. The organizers will give priority to papers with solid, credible identification strategies. The program will consist of eight to ten papers with formal discussants for each paper.

The organizer will pay economy class airfare, meals, and lodging during the seminar for selected participants.
